ALOHA PETROLEUM DONATES OVER $5,000 TO ACCESSURF

HONOLULU, HAWAII (February 17, 2015) - Aloha Petroleum, Ltd. recently donated $5,655.69 to AccesSurf to support the organization's efforts to provide adaptive surfing instruction and therapeutic educational programs on water recreation to people with disabilities. The company matched the funds raised through its canister collection program at statewide participating Aloha Island Mart stores in November and December of last year.

"Once again, we're extremely overwhelmed by the generosity of our customers. Their continued support of our in-store canister program allows us to empower local non-profits like AccesSurf to continue their outstanding work," said Aloha Petroleum President and CEO Richard Parry. "We're proud to support them in their efforts to provide all people with equal opportunities."

"The support from Aloha Petroleum will directly help many people in the disabled community experience the healing of the ocean. We thank them greatly for assisting us to continue to offer our programs," said AccesSurf Executive Director Cara Troy.

Aloha Petroleum has previously used its collection canister program to support numerous other non-profit organizations including the March of Dimes, Aloha Harvest, American Heart Association and the American Red Cross.

About AccesSurf

AccesSurf empowers people with disabilities by providing adaptive surfing instruction and therapeutic educational programs on water recreation and enriches lives by assisting families to access the beach and ocean in a barrier free environment.
