ALOHA PETROLEUM DONATES $5,039 TO ALOHA HARVEST

Honolulu, Hawaii (Aug. 7, 2013) – Aloha Petroleum, Ltd. recently donated $5,039 to Aloha Harvest to support of the organization’s efforts to feed the hungry in Hawaii.

“We appreciate the important role that Aloha Harvest plays in the community and are proud to support its efforts to provide quality food to the thousands of residents who face hunger each day,” said Tom Grimes, vice president and chief financial officer of Aloha Petroleum, Ltd. “We know our contribution will be spent wisely, and we thank our generous customers for making this gift possible.”

Aloha Harvest is a non-profit organization that collects donated food and delivers it “free of charge” to social service agencies feeding the hungry in Hawaii. Since its founding 13 years ago, Aloha Harvest has collected and distributed more than 10 million pounds of food donated by more than 650 participating restaurants, caterers, government facilities, hotels, food distributors, businesses and others.

To solicit donations from customers, Aloha Petroleum set up collection canisters at Aloha Island Mart Convenience stores, and select Shell locations, during May and June.
